DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Rheumatism.

Symptoms.—High fever, bounding pulse, swelling of the joints, with great tenderness and severe pain, especially if the patient attempts to move; and on moving after resting in one position, lameness, stiffness, and severe pain.

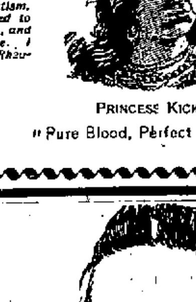

Rheumatism is a blood disease, and must be so treated. There is only one preparation of which it can be said that no instance of a failure to cure Rheumatism or any blood disorder has ever been recorded; and that preparation is furnished, not by science, but by Nature—a harmless vegetable compound of herbs, roots, and barks, called

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa

If you are rheumatic, and do not try this Nature's blessing to the human race, you are responsible for what you suffer. Here is a person who had faith.

FREEMAN STRATTON, East Fairfield, Vt., declares: "After being sick many months with Rheumatism, most of the time confined in bed, I was induced to try Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. I took three bottles, and it cured me. I have not been troubled since. I have no sympathy for any one who suffers with Rheumatism and don't try Sagwa."

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

A Woman and Six Girls Arrested for Stage Robbery.

SALMON CITY, Idaho, April 4. An important arrest of one woman and six girls has been made here on the charge of stage robbery. Numerous hold ups of stages have been made near Harvey's ranche lately, and the suspicion was directed to old man Harvey and his family. The sheriff with ten men Saturday night, waited in hiding near the place where the robberies usually took place, and when the stage arrived there, six bandits stepped out in the road and stopped it levelling their guns at the driver. The sheriff here came forward and took in the whole gang which proved to be composed of Harvey's six daughters who had assumed male attire. When the arrest was made, one of the girls weakened and told the whole story. She said they never liked the work and was glad they were caught. They were trained to it by their father and mother and the proceeds were shipped east for sale so as not to excite suspicion in the country.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 4. Preparatory work for the State election on Wednesday is nearly over. A BLOODY FIGHT.

Row Between Roughs and Town Authorities.

HAVERHILL, Mass., April 4. A big fight occurred in Brandy Brow Region, a wild and dangerous locality, in Plaistow, just across the State boundary line this morning early. The town authorities attempted to raid a number of road houses, and were stoutly resisted and the conflict was carried over into Massachusetts. The battle lasted two hours in the woods, stones and clubs being used. The Haverhill police were telephoned for and a squad went over. Some of the Road House men surrendered, but others escaped, there were a number of broken heads on both sides. Annie Toomey, a Boston woman, was beaten and thrown out into the road where a milkman discovered her.

A COLD BLOODED MURDER.

A Man Murders His Wife at a Railroad Station.

The Fiend Horribly Mutilates the Body with a Dagger.

He Surrenders Himself after Doing the Deed.

LACONIA, N. H., April 4. Belknap county was shocked this morning by a cold blooded murder which occurred at the Meredith passenger station just before the arrival of the morning train south. The victim was Drucilla A. Wiggin, of Lakeport, and the murderer was her husband, Geo. E. Wiggin, who has worked at both Meredith and Lakeport, but did not live with his wife. Both parties had been at Laconia the past week, where her application for a divorce was to come up in a few days. Mrs. Wiggin went to Meredith over Sunday and her husband went from Lakeport to Meredith on the morning paper train and waited at the depot for her to arrive. He was armed with a

Large Dagger, Revolver and Knife,

and when his wife appeared, accompanied by a daughter, about ten years of age, he at once attacked and horribly butchered her. The deed was done with the dagger and as Mrs. Wiggin laid on the ground, covered with dirt and blood, when the accommodation train rolled in a hasty examination of the already dead woman showed stabs in the back and breast, a deep cut on the temple, and throat badly hacked and gaping open. Wiggin sat beside the body after doing the job, and gave up the knife and surrendered to an officer a few minutes later. Wiggin is about forty-five years of age. His wife was some years younger. They had five children and had not lived together for two years. She claimed he had threatened at various times to kill her. The murdered woman had not a very good reputation. Wiggin was not intoxicated at the time of the murder, and is not a hard drinking man, but had an ugly disposition. County Solicitor Peaslee went from Laconia to Meredith, this noon, and Wiggin will probably be brought to jail here to-night.

DURHAM COAL STRIKE.

Its Effect Worse than was Anticipated.

Never has there been such a Crisis in History of Trade.

LONDON, April 4. The effects of the strike of coal miners in Durham threaten to be more deplorable than was anticipated. The stocks of fuel in the large factories are almost gone, and it is probable that in a few weeks a number of heavy failures will be announced.

There never has been so grave a crisis in the north of England. All berths on the river Tyne are occupied by vessels made idle by the strike, and the firms with a European reputation are in jeopardy. Huge coal yards, formerly the scene of the busiest activity, and on which entire communities depended for their existence, are now idle. The strike has already done more than any modern strike, and its effect becomes worse daily.

An event in which the whole nation will be interested is announced for April 27th, 1892, when President Harrison will lay the corner stone of the Grant tomb to be erected in Riverside Park, New York. The structure will rise to a height of about 170 feet, and be a conspicuous object from a long distance. Its interior will contain a hall capable of holding 1,000 people, and from a gallery about fifty feet below the top, visitors will command fine views through windows to be made for their accommodation. The sarcophagus of General Grant will rest in the crypt, which will be reached by a marble staircase leading from the hall. In this part of the monument, which will probably be known as Memorial Hall, will be displayed mementoes and emblems associated with or related to the achievements of the great soldier in honor of whom the monument will be erected.

CITY REPORTS.

Report of Water Board.

Bangor, March, 1892.

To the City Council:

The Water Board respectfully presents the following report of the doings of this Department during the past year, accompanied by the reports of the Collector, Engineer and Inspector, showing the work accomplished and the present condition of the property.

All portions of the city have been supplied with water during the year.

The only accident to the works was in May last, when the air chamber to the large pump burst. It was at once repaired, the old pump supplying water to the city in the meantime.

A new air chamber has since been fitted and shut-off valves added, so that should one side of the pump be disabled, the other side could be worked.

The old pumps have been thoroughly overhauled, the cylinders bored out and a complete set of new valves put in, putting it in first rate condition.

The steam engine and boilers have also received extensive repairs, and are now capable of answering any demand likely to be made upon them.

The filter has been thoroughly overhauled and cleansed. Some changes made in its construction, rendering it more effective.

The amount of water pumped is not quite so large as that of the last few years, but is still very large for a city of the size of ours. The necessity for greater care and economy in the use of water by takers, still exists.

The pumping station building, and surrounding grounds, have received material repairs, and are now in such condition as we believe our citizens desire to have them.

Extensive necessary repairs have been made upon the fishway and wood work at the Brewer end of the dam.

In May last, Mr. William W. Fellows, who had served as Engineer at the works, from the time the works were started, resigned.

Mr. Walter S. Bolton was elected engineer, and has since served as engineer, to the entire satisfaction of the Board.

The Engineer calls attention to some matters, which will receive the attention necessary, during the coming year.

The Inspector reports a large amount of work performed during the year.

Six thousand four hundred and sixty (6,460) feet of pipe, of all sizes, have been laid.

Some changes have been made with a view of giving better circulation of water.

Seven new additional street valves have been placed in the mains, to lessen the area shut off, when necessary repairs are to be made.

One hundred and forty-eight (148) new service pipes have been added during the year, making the number now in use 3,083.

The revenue from these additions, increases the yearly rates by the sum of $4,200.

A thorough house-to-house inspection has been made by the Inspector, which, we believe, will give many good results, in that it calls the personal attention of our people to the condition of their pipes, to the waste of water and other conditions. The work in this department has been well and thoroughly done.

The Collector reports that the water rates have been promptly paid.

The total cash collections for water used in the city is thirty-seven thousand three hundred seventy-three dollars and thirty cents ($37,373.30), within a very few dollars of the whole amount charged.

Electric Lights.

The lights have burned every night without material interruption.

The dynamos have been run by water power every night but four.

The high winds during the year have caused some damage to the mast arms and lamps, but no accident of importance has occurred.

The Superintendent, Mr. W. E. Pierce, and his assistants, have been faithful in the discharge of their duties.

Four new lights have been added during the year, one on Bower street, one on Washington, one on Ohio near Birch Hill, and one on Fourth street. The number now in use is 152.

Everything connected with this department is now in good condition.

The Engineer at the works calls the attention of the Board, to the desirability, if not the absolute necessity, of soon providing another building, as a residence for the employes at the works.

Since the Electric street lights and other necessary machinery were added, the room for storage of material is very much cramped. Again, if the street light machinery is increased, as undoubtedly will soon be necessary, more room will be required.

He further calls attention to the fact, that the residence part of the building being located directly over the water, is very damp and unhealthy.

In view of these facts we recommend to the City Government the erection of a suitable building as a residence of the water and street light employes.

JOSEPH F. SNOW, Mayor.
CHAS. I. COLLAMORE,
THOMAS W. VOSE,
HUGH R. CHAPLIN,
THOMAS WHITE,
JAMES ADAMS,
HIRAM H. FOGG.

Report of the Inspector of Water Department.

Bangor, March, 1892.

To the Bangor Water Board:

Gentlemen—I herewith present a report of the work entrusted to my care for the past year:

The amount of pipe laid is as follows:

602 feet of	6 inch	on	Forest Avenue.
488 "	" "	"	Mt. Hope Avenue.
346 "	" "	"	Stillwater "
550 "	" "	"	West Street.
530 "	" "	"	Holland Street.
300 "	4 "	"	Dutton "
310 "	" "	"	Front "
420 "	" "	"	Patten "
600 "	" "	"	Leighton "
425 "	" "	"	Grove "
450 "	" "	"	Bower "
544 "	" "	"	Date "
170 "	" "	"	Essex "
325 "	" "	"	Pickering Square.
400 "	2 "	"	Curve Street.

Making the total number of feet laid the past year 6,460.

Two breaks have occurred in the mains the past year, one on Broad street, where the eight-inch main was found to be broken entirely off, the other on the six-inch main on Broadway, both probably caused by the earth settling. Twenty-four leaks have been discovered and repaired. They were all caused by defective joints, and in that part of the pipe which was laid under contract when the Works were first constructed.

The following lines of two-inch pipe have been taken up, and re-laid with four-inch pipe: 310 feet on Pickering Square, 325 feet on Front Street, 440 feet on Forest Avenue, and 450 feet of one-inch pipe on Bower Street, have been re-laid with four-inch.

I would suggest that the six-inch main on West Broadway be connected with the eight-inch main on Hammond Street, to give a better circulation, and also the Third Street line be connected with the Lincoln Street line.

Hydrants.

Three hydrants have been set the past year, one on Dutton Street, one at the corner of Forest Avenue and Mt. Hope Avenue, and one by the Public Works Company, at the corner of Main and Dillingham Streets. Forty-six new boxes have been put in to replace those found to be decayed. There are many more in the same condition, which will need replacing the coming season. There have been two broken—one caused by a team running away, the other by having the valve broken. All have been repacked and painted and carefully examined, and put in repair.

Valves.

The valves are all in good condition. On account of the increase in the number of consumers it would be well to put in some additional valves, and lessen the area cut off at any time when necessary. The following valves have been set the past year:

1 6 inch on Forest Avenue.
1 6 " Stillwater Avenue.
1 4 " Mt. Hope Avenue.
1 4 " Dutton Street.
1 4 " Front Street.
1 4 " Holland Street.
1 4 " Elm Street.

Services.

One hundred and forty-eight services have been put in this season, making the total number now in use 3,083.

The number put in, together with the additional fixtures added, increase the yearly rates about four thousand two hundred dollars. Forty-eight pipes have been found filled with rust and were taken out, and larger ones put in.

Inspection.

A thorough house-to-house inspection of the fixtures throughout the City is now being made, and good results accomplished. In several cases it has become necessary to shut off the water in order to enforce the regulations relating to leaking fixtures.

Another very important feature of this part of the work is shown by the additional uses of water found, and the consequent increased revenue derived therefrom. Many extensions of service pipes are made, and extra fixtures added without the necessary permit; and in too many instances through the carelessness of the plumber employed, who fails to make a proper return to this office of such extension or addition.

Respectfully submitted,
M. A. SINCLAIR,
Inspector.

Report of Engineer Bangor Water Works.

Bangor, March 1, 1892.

To the Bangor Water Board:

Gentlemen: I submit the following report of work done at your pumping station since May 26th, 1891, by which you may see that while the running expense has been somewhat larger than usual, the amount of work done and progress made in getting the machinery into good condition has been at least in proportion.

Having no record of the three months before I took charge, I assume that the amount of water pumped previous to May 26th did not vary materially from the amount for the same time the year before; my figures, however, as to daily average, etc., are made from the actual pumping as per register May 26th, '91, to March 1, '92:

March	1891,	68,101,210
April	"	66,847,620
May 1—26	"	49,054,649
May 26—31	"	14,038,951
June	"	85,524,316
July	"	92,606,515
August	"	89,189,414
September	"	83,077,354
October	"	83,405,938
November	"	77,935,470
December	"	82,700,707
January	1892,	82,110,994
February	"	84,207,495

Total, May 26th, 1891, to March 1, 1892, 774,497,154 gallons. This is a daily average of 2,775,975 gallons or 145½ gallons per day per inhabitant, which is very much above the average consumption in cities of this size and number of manufacturing establishments.

A new pin was put in the crank of "Left Gaskill pump" June 12—13. The four Holly pumps were bored, new piston heads put in, the piston rods turned, glands brushed, new valves made of leather in place of wood and all put in first-class condition, June 8—22.

The boilers were cleaned and boiled out with kerosene and soda ash to take off the rust, such tubes as were eaten through replaced by new and precaution taken to arrest the rusting in the others, the piping changed to conform to 19th century practice, July 20—25, and insured by the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company, whose Inspector has examined them at different times since and reported on their condition and care to your Board.

The compound engine was thoroughly overhauled and repaired, all leaky pipes, valves, etc., replaced by new and put in good condition for service, October 15—November 15. The filters were emptied and all the filtering material taken out and washed through wire screens, the water courses under the brick floor washed out clean, the pump well washed and cleaned thoroughly and a twelve-inch iron pipe with valve put in so that it can be emptied and washed out with hose at any time.

When the discharge on the Gaskill pumps (which burst sometime early last spring) was replaced by a new one, a 16-inch valve was put in the discharge of each pump so that one of them can be run in addition to the four Holly pumps while the other is under repairs.

The outside woodwork of the building has been painted two coats and the walls of the engine-room washed and varnished.

I have been unable to make extensive repairs on the Gaskill pumps the past season as my time has been fully taken up with the other repairs which I thought necessary to complete first, but should be made as soon as convenient this season.

The water wheels will also need considerable repairing.

The fishway and the jam pier above on the Brewer end of the dam have been entirely rebuilt above the water line the past season; also the planking of the dam torn off by logs and ice, replaced.

The river suction when it enters the water is a wooden box extended just through the bank with some slats across the end and, makes a particularly nice "catch basin" for sand, sawdust, and drift, and while it is necessary to use it only on rare occasions, there are times when it must be used, and it should be laid of iron pipe extended beyond the granite wall of the Fore-bay and end in a pier to carry and protect it. This pier would also protect the rack-work, in a great measure, from drift stuff and anchor ice. The Electric Light machinery under my charge, has needed only ordinary repairs and is now in good condition.

The concrete walks around the buildings are badly worn and broken by frost, and should be relaid and the lawn leveled and graded.

The two water wheels used to drive the "Gaskill pumps," are not of sufficient power to keep the pressure during the highest tides, but I have found by using the old water wheel that is kept as a reserve, there are but few times when the pressure cannot be kept. The use of this wheel, however, renders the dwelling house very nearly uninhabitable, and for this reason, as well as its unhealthy situation, being directly over the water, making it damp and cold, and over the wheels, making a continual jar and noise which is very disagreeable, I would recommend it be abandoned as a dwelling, and used for a storehouse until wanted for other purposes, and a suitable cottage built outside the main building.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the members of your Board for their uniform kindness and courteous attention to my many demands on them; also Inspector Sinclair for valuable assistance in the work on the filters and at other times.

Respectfully submitted,
W. S. BOLTON,
Chief Engineer.

WHAT IS THIS?

An Overdose of Morphine--And Why?

A lady was found dead upon her bed. Investigation showed that she had been a terrible sufferer from nervous weakness and prostration, probably aggravated by Spring Debility which so weakens us all at this season of the year. For months she had complained of being tired and nervous, her stomach and bowels had troubled her, there was palpitation, headache, strange, faint feelings and for the last week she had felt discouraged, depressed in mind, miserable. In a fit of desperation she took her own life by an overdose of morphine.

A peculiar after-effect of the Grip is that owing to its extreme weakening effects upon the nerves, it makes people feel blue, depressed and discouraged and without their former joyous feelings.

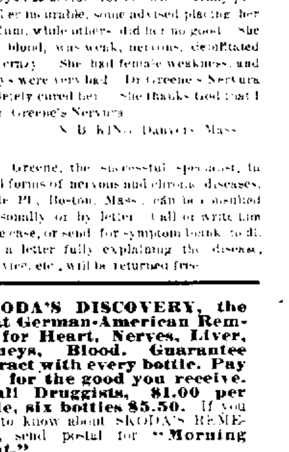

It is strange that such foolish acts as suicides can take place when at the present day it is well known that these weakening nervous diseases can be easily cured by using that great discovery for the nerves, Dr. Greene's Nervura. Its effects are sure in all such cases, and it is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Druggists, $1.

"I employed 23 doctors for my wife. Many pronounced her incurable, some advised placing her in an asylum, while others did her no good. She had poor blood, was weak, nervous, debilitated and half crazy. She had female weakness, and her kidneys were very bad. Dr. Greene's Nervura has completely cured her. She thanks God that I bought Dr. Greene's Nervura."

In the railroad question the [illegible] question are [illegible] of the past. With [illegible] Are they The citizens of Bangor think they are yet living issues.	The people settled the railroad question at the polls Their decision should be decisive

Congressman Watson of Georgia who has left the People's party is a thorn in the Democratic side. Disgusted at the dilly-dallying of the Democrats on the silver question he told the majority that the failure to pass the free coinage bill would lose them thousands of votes in the South. He also pricked the bubble of tariff talk on the Democratic side of the House remarking that the party was whipping its horse with the free trade whip but the horse will not go to the leap [illegible] to the stable.

The Republicans of Washington County [illegible] this spring. Last week [illegible] the entire Republican ticket was [illegible] hundred majority. This [illegible] continued the good work, [illegible] electing Hon G. A. [illegible] a majority of 450 over the Democratic [illegible] Mayor. This is a gain [illegible] last spring. We [illegible] Republican [illegible] this import[ant] [illegible].

[illegible] Democratic contemporaries [illegible] experiment for the [illegible] Mr Cleveland to [illegible] attitude on the silver [illegible] view of the ex-President's [illegible] said in support of sound [illegible] should be afraid to [illegible] he occupies this [illegible] is because he can [illegible] his views with the record of the party on the free coinage issue. The [illegible] cornered big point when they [illegible] to the people of Rhode Island [illegible] the Democrats do not dare [illegible] important issue. If they were [illegible] right side of the question they would be very glad to make it prominent in the canvass but they know that it is impossible to defend the free coinage record of the Democratic House. Moreover it would be damaging to the Cleveland boom in the West and South if he should declare himself as opposed to silver legislation. Hence his cowardly evasion of the subject.

Mr Cleveland takes occasion to serve notice upon the enemy that in the coming campaign they must settle accounts with the Democrats on the issue of tariff reform. Mr Cleveland may be said to be in a position to speak with some authority upon this subject. He is likely to be in the front column.—Boston Herald

Mr Cleveland can rest assured that the Republicans have no disposition to evade the tariff question. He had conclusive evidence of this fact in the campaign of 1888 and if the Democratic Presidential lightning strikes him this year he will find the Republicans doing business at the old stand once more. It is amusing to see our free trade friends trying to convict the Republicans of a desire to run away from the tariff issue, simply as a means of covering the retreat of the big Democratic majority in the House. It is only a few weeks since Mr Cleveland himself was arraigning his party for manifestly trying to go back on the pledges to the people, by substituting the piece-meal policy for the promised general tariff legislation. The Republicans will will give the Democrats all of the tariff they want in the coming campaign, and at the same time will make them face their silver record. They may dodge in the House, but they will have to answer to the people.

The Free Coinage Issue.

A Democratic contemporary having attempted to criticise Congressman Dalzell for voting with the majority of his Republican associates to let the Democrats bring up the free coinage bill and make a square record upon it, the Philadelphia Press repelled the insinuations in the following editorial:

Mr. Dalzell voted to fix three days of the present session, March 22, 23 and 24, for the discussion of and vote upon Mr. Bland's free silver coinage bill. Many other Republicans voted with him; they all should have done so. The Eastern Democrats who fear that the commitment of their party to free silver coinage will destroy [illegible]

ing national election, were very anxious that the Republicans should join them in filibustering against the consideration of free coinage bill at this session. They wished to postpone the vote on the bill until next December, when the Presidential issue could not be affected by the result. Mr Dalzell and other anti-silver Republicans refused to come to the aid of their distressed Democratic associates. The position of these Republicans is well expressed in the speech of Mr Boutelle, of Maine, which we copy entire from the Congressional Record of March 8:

"Mr Boutelle—Mr Speaker, in accord with the overwhelming majority of the Republican party I am opposed to the free coinage of silver. I am equally opposed to assisting certain gentlemen to perpetrate upon this country the fraud of 1890, which has been procured here today by the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr Williams), although he failed to state that he not only proclaimed it but represented it here. (Applause and laughter.) In the campaign of 1890, in the States of Maine, Massachusetts and elsewhere the Republican party was arraigned for an soundness on the silver question and Boston Democratic newspapers felicitated the country upon the election of this Democratic House, upon the ground that sound legislation upon the silver question from the Eastern standpoint might be expected from an overwhelmingly Democratic House than had come from the Republican Fifty first Congress.

I am in favor, Mr Speaker, of deciding the question of free coinage now, if we are to be called upon to decide it at all. (Applause.) I would be glad of an opportunity to vote upon it and to vote against it. I am not in favor of obscuring in a great Presidential campaign one of the leading issues that ought to go before the people for the sake of aiding the State of Massachusetts to maintain a Mugwump kindergarten at the expense of the United States. (Laughter and applause)

"These gentlemen have unmasked their batteries here to-day. They have advertised, by their own motion, that all they want is a postponement of this question until December 5th. Mr Speaker the safest time to free this country from the danger of free silver coinage is the present. Everybody knows that that question is weaker even on the Democratic side of this House now than it will be in December after the pressure of the political and business interests of the East, of New York, and other anti-silver sections, is taken off from the free-silver Democrats on the other side. While I hope and believe that the Senate of the United States is ready to interpose a Republican obstacle that cannot be overcome, I know, and we all know, that a free coinage bill passing Congress to-day, or at this session, is absolutely sure to meet its death [illegible] the hands of the Executive elected by the Republican party. (Applause.)

Now Mr Speaker these gentlemen from Massachusetts, these guileless political infants [Laughter] and prodigies of statesmanship are not going to persuade the Republican party into the old fashioned business of pulling chestnuts out of the fire for their delectation and I give notice here and now that, opposed as I am to free silver coinage, I will not consent, either by my inaction or by my vote in any possible way to aid the postponement of this question so as to enable the Democratic party to go before the people evading this great issue, so as to enable the gentleman from Massachusetts to go on the stump in his State and say, as he said a few months ago, that the votes of seventy Democrats on that side represented the views of the Democratic party that on the silver question the Democratic party occupied the position of hostility to free coinage taken by that minority of seventy votes.

We shall have a square issue on this question and if it is necessary by my vote to bring the question to a direct vote in this Congress, so that the American people can have before them a square, unmistakable record of the Republican and the Democratic party—an indisputable record of the vote of all parties in this House, Republicans on one side against free coinage and Democrats on the other in favor of it I shall in accordance with the principle which governed me in the last Congress give to the majority elected to this House—a majority that has been so loudly boasted as representing the sentiment of the country—an opportunity to disclose their idea of what they were sent here to do. (Applause.)

Mr Dalzell is opposed to free silver coinage. He has voted against it every time it has come before the House since he has been a member of Congress. He will vote against the Bland bill when it comes up but he will not by his vote help anti-silver Democrats to secure for their party in the next campaign the benefit of a doubt as to that party's position on the vital issue.

COMMISSIONS

In the light of the revelations now being made to the public of practices existing in certain great companies it seems proper to inform our members that the commissions paid by this company for business are strictly maintained at the conservative standard of former years; that our contracts with agents do not give them a future control over these commissions; when an agency ceases the remuneration for the agent ceases and such commissions as are then fixed upon the existing business of that agency go to the new agent to assist him in his work. We do not add to the cost of paying men who are at work for us by paying also men who have worked for us after they get through; we do not submit to pay enormous commissions on new business in order to let an agent who has got through working continue receiving commissions on old business; we have no contracts for future commissions against which advances or loans or commuted commissions can be made and charged up to the agent to make rebates out of or pay absurd commissions and brokerages out of on a business which will presently be twisted into some other liberal company by the same competitive measures leading old members to pay for the ambitious exploit. The resources of this company are not mortgaged to anybody.—Extract 46th Annual Report Jacob L Greene President

THE CALAIS ELECTION.

Republicans Elect Their Entire Ticket by Increased Majority.

CALAIS, April 4. The city election to-day passed off quietly and an average vote was cast. There was some little dissatisfaction over the distribution of patronage in the Milltown wards and this caused a largely increased prohibition vote.

The Republicans elected their entire ticket in every ward. George A. Murchie, Republican candidate for mayor, received 391 votes; A. H. Woodcock, Democrat, 221; John R. Higgins, Prohibitionist 51.

The latter was the largest vote ever cast by the Prohibitory party. The Republican majority last year was 409.

OPPOSING STREET CARS.

The Question that is Agitating Camden.

CAMDEN, April 4. A hearing was held to-day before Selectman Grant on the question of the use of the streets by the Rockland, Thomaston and Camden Electric Railroad. Hon. Geo. E. Macomber, of Augusta, President of the road, presents two hundred and twenty-five names on the petition in favor and two hundred and ninety-one are opposed. Under the law the selectmen still have the right to grant the use of the streets, but as the road is now under contract to the town line, half a mile from Camden post office, the opposition prefer to have it stay there one year, then possibly letting it in if desirable in every way.

BIDDEFORD, April 4. At the annual meeting of the Hardy Machine Co., this afternoon the following officers were elected; President, Rishworth Jordan, Saco; secretary and clerk, Jesse Gould, Biddeford; treasurer, John H. SUFFERING KANSAS.

CHERRY VALE, Kansas, April 4. The country a mile east of here was struck by a tornado about ten o'clock last night.

Half a dozen houses were demolished and two people whose names are unknown were killed.

In Cherry Vale a woman was killed by lightning, but the wind did not touch the town.

Dexter, in Cowley county, is also reported to have suffered from the wind.

THE MEREDITH MURDER.

Further Particulars of the Shocking Tragedy.

LACONIA, N. H., April 4. Further particulars of the Meredith murder show that Drusilla A. Wiggin, the murdered woman, went up from Lakeport to Meredith on the morning paper train, accompanied by her ten years old daughter, to meet her lawyer, James Wilson, of Ashland, coming down on the first train south.

Her husband, George E. Wiggin, the murderer, went up on the same train, ostensibly to procure witnesses in Meredith to testify on his side in the divorce case which was to have had a hearing before the Supreme Court at Laconia, Tuesday afternoon.

The husband and wife met on the depot platform about 8.30. He wanted to talk with her, but she refused and he attempted to draw her aside from the crowd on this plea but Mrs. Wiggin screamed for help and the crowd started to her relief, but Wiggin quickly drew a dagger and before any one could reach him stabbed her three times in the back and neck. He then threw her to the ground and cut her throat.

He made no talk while this was going on and she did not make any outcry except to groan. Wiggin knelt by his dead wife until arrested a few minutes after. He made no resistance to arrest and refused to talk. The officers state that he has not spoken a word since committing the crime, even refusing to talk with his counsel. Wiggin was arraigned to-day. The prisoner lay on a bed apparently unconscious, although not asleep, and took no interest in the proceedings. His counsel could not arouse him enough to plead not guilty. Wiggin finally shook his head as a negative to the charge and then relapsed into apparent unconsciousness.

The hearing brought out no new facts. Judge Rollins decided to hold Wiggin without bail for the September term of the Supreme Court. The body of Mrs. Wiggin lies to-night in the rooms of undertaker Herbert Moulton, and unless called for by her friends, will be buried by the Meredith selectmen. Wiggin was taken to-night to Laconia to the Belknap county jail, about two miles from the city. Many Meredith folks take sides with Wiggin, claiming that his wife was a bad woman and had broken up her home.

The friends of the prisoner maintain that domestic troubles practically crazed him on that subject although he was evidently all right on other matters. He was a man of violent temper and had threatened his wife before. A few months ago he was put under bonds to keep the peace on her complaint. There is little doubt that the crime was premeditated.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.

President Bartlett's Successor Still Unknown.

CONCORD, N. H., April 4. At the meeting of the trustees of Dartmouth College this afternoon, the resignation of Hon. Hiram Hitchcock, of New York, as a member of the board, was received and accepted.

The subject of selecting President Bartlett's successor was discussed, but no action was taken.

NEW ORLEANS FIRE.

Loss Estimated at Two and a Half Millions.

NEW ORLEANS, April 4. The total loss by yesterday's fire is still estimated at two and a half millions. The number of bales of cotton burned, it is now believed, will not exceed 60,000. The loss is substantially the same as was reported in the Associated Press despatches last night.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Senate Devotes the Day to Talk on Silver.

Free Wool Bill in the House for Amendments.

No Action Taken on the Bill by That Body.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 4. The Vice President having laid before the Senate Mr. Morgan's silver resolutions, that Senator said he had a letter from the director of the mint stating that the coinage of silver bullion purchased under the act of 1890 was discretionary with the Secretary of the Treasury. The coinage of silver dollars had in fact, Mr. Morgan said, stopped, and the idea was repudiated in the treasury that Congress in the act of 1890 did anything more than merely grant discretionary permission to the Secretary of the Treasury to coin as much of the bullion purchased under that act as he might consider a necessary provision for the redemption of certificates used in purchase.

The object of the act of 1890 had been expressed in these words: "It being the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals on a parity with each other on the present legal ratio." What did Congress mean, he asked, by putting that language in the act?

Mr. Butler—Is it true that the monthly purchase of silver is still going on, and bullion is being piled up in the treasury?

Mr. Morgan—Yes, 65 millions worth a year. I want to know what we are going to do with the bullion when there gets to be $1,000,000,000 worth in the treasury.

Mr. Sherman—Are you not entirely satisfied as a lawyer, that discretion is left with the secretary?

Mr. Morgan—No sir, neither as a lawyer, Senator, American citizen, nor man of plain common sense.

Mr. Sherman—There's not the slightest doubt as to what was meant by the act of 1890.

Mr. Morgan—I know when the conference committee made the report on that act I wanted to know what we were doing and was told I must not enquire into the secret performances of the committee. There's not a man of common sense in the United States who would not believe it the purpose of Congress that the two metals be kept in parity in their circulating form.

Mr. Sherman—The language of the law is so plain I don't see how anybody can doubt it. It declares that the government of the United States will maintain the parity of gold and silver coin.

Mr. Stewart—Oh, no, gold and silver metals.

Mr. Sherman—Well, gold and silver metals.

Mr. Teller—Very different things.

Mr. Sherman—They are not different. The act also provides for every dollar certificate issued, there shall be behind it a dollar's worth of silver, and that the Secretary shall not coin this silver into dollars except as they are needed.

Mr. Morgan—That clause is not in the law, by expression, inference or guess of any man, although it may have been understood by the Senator from Ohio.

Mr. Sherman—I understood it.

After the executive session the Senate adjourned.

House.

Mr. Geary, of California, moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill to absolutely prohibit the coming of Chinese persons into the United States. A second to the motion was ordered.

Mr. Hooker, of Missouri, said the pending bill practically excluded all Chinese except the minister and his suite. Then it was proposed to abrogate every treaty ever entered into with the Chinese empire. The United States could not afford to take this action against the most powerful of nations in point of numbers on the globe. It was bad faith. We ought to keep good faith with every nation, great or small.

Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, said never before had there been presented to the House an anti-Chinese bill which so utterly disregarded and violated national faith with cold perfidity. This bill declared that all treaties in contravention with this act should be repealed, set aside, abrogated. Parts of treaties to our advantage were not to be abrogated. We proposed to revoke everything of advantage to China, and claim that China as an honorable nation should carry out all it had covenanted with us. We proposed to set aside a treaty that the other party had been carefully and scrupulously carried out. This, he contended, was not a bill to exclude Chinese laborers.

Mr. Geary said the Chinese government both through its officials at home and in this country, had done everything in its power to violate the spirit of the treaty. Whenever a foreign power came here and said to the American Congress it had no right to legislate for the protection of its own people, he was ready to abrogate any treaty or law if by so doing he could protect a single laborer in his own land.

The motion was agreed to and the bill was passed, 179 to 43.

Mr. Lockwood, of New York, moved to suspend the rules and pass the Senate bills to repeal the law requiring steamers plying exclusively on lakes and inland waters of the United States to carry line-carrying projectiles and means of propelling them. Agreed to.

Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, moved that the House go into Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the free wool bill. He asked that Mr. Springer, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, be allowed to speak on the bill. There was no objection to this nor to the request that Mr. Springer proceed without limit.

Mr. McMillin's motion was agreed to.

Mr. Springer, weak and pale, entered from the lobby door at the right of the chair and with a firm step ascended to the Speaker's desk.

Mr. Blount, who was in the chair, cordially greeted Mr. Springer, and both sides of the House applauded.

Mr. Springer descended from the rostrum and took his seat behind a magnificent array of floral tributes sent by his friends.

After a few moments of congratulation Mr. Springer rose and said he intended to make extended remarks upon the tariff question, but his physician absolutely prohibited his doing so. With the indulgence of the House he would ask Mr. Bryan to read a few statements he had prepared. Mr. Bryan then read Mr. Springer's speech. The speech was warmly applauded.

General debate being closed, the committee took up the bill by paragraphs for amendment and discussion under the five minute rule.

Mr. Burrows moved to strike out from the first paragraph the provision which places "All wools" on the free list.

Mr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, in speaking in favor of the bill, said a high tariff destroyed the real wool grower, while it had built up the adulterant manufacturer of shoddy.

Discussion was continued by Messrs. McMillin, O'Neill, of Missouri, and Scott, in opposition to the amendment, and Dingley, of Maine, Milliken, and Doan in advocacy.

An unusually large number of members was in attendance, but they paid little or no attention to the debate. The confusion was very great.

Without taking a vote on Mr. Burrows' amendment, the committee rose and the House adjourned.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Republicans Carry Bridgeport Handily—Republicans Gain in Hartford.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 4. The Republicans carried the municipal election here to-day. William H. Marigold, Republican, was re-elected Mayor by about 400 majority. The Republicans have a safe majority in the council on joint ballot.

Hartford Election.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 4. After a lively contest to-day William Waldo Hyde, Democrat, was elected Mayor by [illegible] 607 to 3,828 for Henry C. Dwight, Republican.

Two years ago Mr. Dwight was elected. The Republicans have 13 councilmen and the Democrats 20, a gain of 4 Republicans. The board of aldermen stands 1 Democrats and 5 Republicans.

RHODE ISLAND REPUBLICANS.

Several Enthusiastic Rallies Held Monday Night.

Ex-Speaker Reed Receives Ovation in Each Place.

Brilliant Dinner to Secretary of the Navy Tracy.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 4. The climax of the Republican campaign came to-night in a dinner given to Secretary of the Navy Benjamin F. Tracy by the Young Men's Republican Club of Providence. Infantry Hall was filled with the largest company of diners in the club's history, covers being laid for 1,140.

After the dinner, which was served at 7.30, the tables were removed from the platform, a desk placed in front and the guests seated. Hiram Kendall, president of the club, who presided, Secretary Tracy and Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, were greeted with cheers and applause as they came in.

On the platform were Hon. John H. Dolliver, of Iowa; Judge George M. Carpenter, of United States District Court; Governor Herbert W. Ladd, Lieut. Governor Henry A. Stearns, D. Russell Brown, candidate for Governor, ex-Gov. Royal E. Taft, Alfred H. Littlefield and ex-Congressman Warren O. Arnold.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the doors were thrown open and the galleries were quickly filled. President Kendall called the company to order in a brief speech, and introduced Secretary Tracy. As the Secretary advanced to the front of the platform the whole company rose and cheer upon cheer rang out. Secretary Tracy highly commended Senator Aldrich and said his defeat would be a national loss. He praised the present national administration and specified that each executive department had done what he considered praiseworthy.

The Secretary's mention of ex-Speaker Reed's name was loudly applauded. Other speeches were made by Hon. John H. Dolliver, of Iowa, and Senator Aldrich. During the speech of the latter ex-Speaker Reed arrived from Newport and received an ovation. He began by saying he had been misinformed as to Rhode Island and it was larger than New York. He did not see how they packed themselves away after this enthusiasm to leave room for Mr. Cleveland and the Western Congressmen. He continued substantially as follows:

One of the plainest duties of the Christian statesman is to see that others do their duty. If you do that, the prophecy Senator Aldrich just made to you will come true. You do not realize how important your election is to all the people. You have an opportunity seldom afforded you to set the key-note of the campaign. You must show what you really can do to carry the country. The Republican task does not grow less as the years go by, because the human race must be limitless. You must not only go forward, but bring the rest of the world forward.

To-day every one believes that before us is the possibility of a great victory and another onward march. This scene is assurance that the Republican party has its old vigor and vitality and will be in the future worthy of the worthiest thing in the United States, its own imperishable past.

As Mr. Reed finished, enthusiastic applause broke out and the cheers completely drowned the band, which played unheeded until the ex-Speaker rose and bowed again and again. At 10.40 the company broke up.

Mr. Reed Addresses Pawtucket Republicans.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 4. The Pawtucket Republicans held a mass meeting to-night. Ex-Speaker Reed, of Maine, and Roswell G. Horr, of Michigan, were the principal speakers. Mr. Reed said in part:

The people of Pawtucket are twice as well off as they were thirty years ago. No one doubts that Mr. Grover Cleveland—(Cheers upon cheers greeted the mention of the ex-President's name.) When they had subsided Mr. Reed said: "I'm glad to hear you cheer him, he'll need it."

He continued: "The McKinley bill is only a revision of the tariff system. These men, these western Congressmen, do not merely attack the latest version of the tariff, but the tariff itself. Everybody in the world, except the Democratic party and Great Britian, believes in protection. I say to you that every civilized nation in the world is in favor of protection except Great Britian, by the instinct of humanity."

A RACE RIOT.

A Serious Encounter in the First Ward in New York.

NEW YORK, April 4. The race war which has been waging for several months past between the Irish residents of the First ward of this city and the colony of Arabs living in lower Washington street, culminated in a riot last night and was participated in by men and women of both parties.

The affair occurred on Rector street, near Washington, and before the police reserve of the precinct could reach the scene fully a thousand persons were engaged in the strife.

Bricks, stones, clubs and other missles were used by the combatants and many of them were seriously injured. Badre Halsby, a young Syrian woman, was struck with a brickbat and was probably fatally injured.

The police arrested Mrs. Nellie Whalen, 28 years old, as the woman's assailant. The police also arrested two young Irishmen as ringleaders in the riot and they were held for trial. The Arabs complain bitterly of the indifference shown by the police and to-day a body of three hundred of them went to the Church street station and demanded permission to carry fire arms to protect their lives and property.

A mass meeting was held Monday for the purpose of denouncing the police authorities for their neglect to protect the Arabs from Irish violence.

THE MILITIA.

A Bill to Promote its Efficiency.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

It strikes us as remarkable to hear of the wonderful record for curing, enjoyed by Bettor's Infallible Pile Salve; it cures every form of this troublesome ailment. If not to be had of your druggist send 50 cents to the Winkelmann & Brown Drug Co., Baltimore, Md.

Suppose that every man, woman and child in the United States should suddenly be troubled with constipation, what would be the result? Cactus Blood Cure could not be prepared fast enough; the market would be bulled, and New York druggists would temporarily stop cutting prices.

FIENDISH DYNAMITE PLOTS.

Attempts to Blow up Public Buildings in Madrid.

A Man Arrested While in Act of Carrying Bomb.

Plans Discovered to Blow up Numerous Edifices.

MADRID, April 4. The police this afternoon arrested a Frenchman named Devat while entering the back door of the parliamentary building.

When arrested he tried to throw down a bundle he carried but was prevented.

The bundle was found to contain a dynamite bomb with a fuse ready for lighting. He said he had placed a similar bomb in the lobby entrance but it had evidently gone out.

Examination of the lobby caused the discovery of a bomb behind a pillar.

Each bomb contained about six pounds of dynamite, enough to wreck the whole building.

In the Frenchman's papers was found an anarchistic proclamation.

Papers were found sewed in his under clothes containing plans to blow up with dynamite the chamber of the senate, the Palace Opera House, as well as municipal buildings.

Decision in Law.

The following decision in law has been received by Charles F. Sweet, Esq., clerk for the Eastern Law District:

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

Alden F. Pote vs. Barbara Blanchard.

Rescript:

The plaintiff is the record owner of lot 57 of which the demanded premises are a part. The defendant is the owner of the adjoining lot 56. One Winslow then the owner of both lots, built a house on lot 56, an extension of which house extended over the dividing line and occupied the locus a small part of lot 57. Upon his death lot 56 and the house thereon, subject to the widow's dower, descended to his children under whom the defendant claims.

Lot 57 was purchased of the estate by the widow, under whom the plaintiff claims.

The question is whether the heirs and their grantees have since the death of Winslow acquired a title to the small part of lot 57 occupied by the extension by a disseizin of the widow and her grantees.

During a large part of the time necessary for acquiring such a title, the widow had an unassigned dower in lot 56 and the house. By arrangement with the heirs she had possession of the property for herself and them. She leased the land and the house and collected the rents, taking one-third of them for herself and paying two-thirds to the heirs. The tenants to whom she leased occupied the small extension on lot 57 as well as the main part of the house on lot 56. She exacted no additional rent for such occupation of the extension, and none was paid her.

Under these circumstances were the heirs occupying the small part of lot 57 under the extension, adversely to the widow the record owner? We think not. We see in these circumstances no assertion of title nor any attempt to claim title by the heirs against the widow during her stewardship. The occupation of the locus was clearly with her permission. She herself placed the tenants in possession. She could hardly disseize herself.

Motion overruled.

Sinclair, of Pembroke, and Mr. Frank Rafferty, of Eastport, recently examined the steamer at Bucksport and she was found to be satisfactory for the route. Capt. Sinclair will command the steamer and Mr. Rafferty will be engineer. The M. & M. is a good boat and will doubtless prove satisfactory on the new route.

Lancaster, the brick store on Exchange street, recently occupied by the Vanceboro Wooden Ware Company, removing from their old stand, which has been occupied by this firm and its predecessor, Ansel Leighton, for the past half century, at the corner of York and Exchange streets, for the reason that the land has been sold. THE HAMLIN RIFLES

Elect Officers and Tender Major L. S. Chilcott a Banquet Monday Evening.

A meeting of the Hamlin Rifles was held last evening in the armory on Mercantile square for the purpose of electing a captain, made necessary by the promotion of the former incumbent, Major L. S. Chilcott, to his present rank, and other officers, and the result was the election of Lieut. James E. Mitchell for Captain; 2d Lieut. Fred E. Pottle for 1st lieutenant, and Sergt. Hugo G. Menges for 2d lieutenant. Sergeant Menges declined the office after being elected, but a second ballot which was taken was unanimous for his promotion and he accepted. There were present at the election Col. Victor Brett, Lieut. Cushing, of Maine State College, and Quartermaster Bridge.

The company, which was in uniform, then adjourned to the Bangor House, where a complimentary banquet to Major L. S. Chilcott was served, and the affair was carried out in Landlord Chapman's well known style. After the attractive viands had been sufficiently discussed, cigars were produced, and under the direction of the toastmaster, Lieutenant H. G. Menges, the toasts of the evening were responded to as follows:

"Our Battalion," Major L. S. Chilcott; "Our New Major," Major W. W. Emerson; "Our Former Major," Col. Victor Brett; "Our Guests," Lieut. F. E. Pottle; "The Ladies," Col. D. A. Robinson; "The Volunteer Militia," Gen. H. L. Mitchell; "The U. S. A.," Lieut. Mark L. Hersey, U. S. A.; "The Future," Capt. James E. Mitchell.

The responses were interesting and highly instructive and were well received and heartily applauded by all.

At the close a rising vote of thanks was tendered to toastmaster Lieut. H. G. Menges, for his efficient services, and shortly after this the company adjourned. The event was one that was greatly enjoyed by those who were present.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Yon Yonson" at the Opera House.

A large audience was most agreeably entertained last night at the Opera House by the presentation of "Yon Yonson" and the entire performance created a very favorable impression. It is not only an interesting and very plausible piece, but it has the merit of originality, its scenes, action and dialogue being different from familiar stage happenings.

The entire company is an excellent one and the star has very able backing. The whole of the scenery during the three acts is brought by the company and it is of a realistic description. That representing the jam of logs is particularly interesting and well put on and is a novelty that drew a curtain call last evening.

Mr. Heege has the role of a young Swede, "Yon Yonson" whose adventures in the lumber camps of Minnesota and in the city of Minneapolis, form a prominent feature of the play, and the new character sketch is very strongly interpreted by him. He was warmly applauded several times.

Miss Lewis is a very bright and pleasing actress and her songs and dances added to the excellent impression which she made.

Miss Lowell made a very interesting "Grace Jennings." Miss Connelly created great amusement by her droll interpretation of "Mrs. Laflin" and her songs and dances made a pronounced hit. Mr. Hartsell had an unpopular part as the unscrupulous "John T. Holloway," but he performed it well. Master Jones made a lively "Roly" and the other parts were ably taken. The songs by the "Lumbermen's Quartette" were harmoniously rendered and they received several encores.

To-night the concluding performance will be given and there will doubtless be a large attendance. A special train will be run from Old Town.

H. R. Brennan's Star Theatre Company.

H. R. Brennan's Star Theatre Company opened a week's engagement at Norombega Hall last evening, and there was a fair sized audience present. The company is playing at popular prices and the entertainments of the week will doubtless be well attended. Last night "Inshavogue" held the boards and it was well given. Mr. Brennan took the role of "Fergus McCarthy" with good effect and Miss De Longe in a double role did some spirited acting. Mr. Ferritor took well. To-night the play will be "The Gypsy Queen" and there will be a farce afterwards.

"The Dear Irish Boy."

Few new plays have upon their first presentation, received a more gratifying reception than that accorded to "The Dear Irish Boy," it is said. The play was written by Mr. Dan McCarthy, and the scene is laid in Ireland. Mike McClutchey is the name of the "star" character, and Mike is not the kind of fellow one would care to be associated with. He isn't the dear Irish boy. The play is composed of a series of dramatic situations and comedy scenes which follow each other in rapid succession. There's a murder, accusations, persecutions, and a sprinkling of dancing. Gus. Reynolds takes the leading role, and the company surrounding him is said to be a strong combination. The situations are reported as being very strong, holding the interest of the audience throughout the performance.

Notes.

Next week is Holy Week and many dramatic companies lay off during that time. There will, however, be one attraction this week, a comedy, at the Opera House Saturday evening. After that week there will be numerous attractions.

[illegible] Entertainment.

The closing entertainment in the [illegible] street course will occur this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock and a very attractive programme will be presented. It will be a vocal and instrumental concert and there will doubtless be a large attendance. Master Newton K. Wilcox, of Boston, the boy soprano, [illegible] Miss May Jewell, [illegible] W. A. Fellows, baritone; Mr. R. C. Adams, [illegible] Mr. G. E. Wasgatt, violin [illegible]

ANNUAL MEETING

Of Mt. Hope Cemetery Corporation

At the Common Council Room Monday.

The annual meeting of Mt. Hope Cemetery Corporation was held yesterday forenoon at 10 o'clock in the Common Council room, City Hall building, and President J. S. Wheelwright presided. The election of officers resulted in the choice of the old board, as follows: President, J. S. Wheelwright; treasurer, Albert W. Paine; secretary, J. M. Bright; trustees, J. S. Wheelwright, ex-officio, Lysander Strickland, I. W. Coombs, Charles L. Marston, James Adams.

It was voted to give a number of lots to those set apart for the Home for Aged Women, and the treasurer was authorized to make the transfer free of charge.

An order was introduced by Hon. A. W. Paine regarding the establishment of another park at the cemetery to be called Stetson park in honor of the late president, George Stetson, Esq., the park to include a pond. The park and pond, it is proposed, shall be located above the present pond and north of it. The matter has been left to a committee.

It is also proposed, if arrangements can be made with the water company, to introduce the water system into the grounds.

The reports of the officers were made as follows

PRESIDENT WHEELWRIGHT'S REPORT.

The executive committee of Mount Hope Cemetery Corporation desire to present their annual report on their thirty-fourth annual meeting. We are reminded in reading over the list of those who signed the first call: Moses L. Appleton, Albert W. Paine, John E. Godfrey, G. W. Pickering, J. Bright, Henry A. Head, Albert Emerson, Arad Thompson, James B. Fiske, of the necessity for this corporation. We have found it important, from time to time, to add to our borders. The last two purchases we think will be all we shall need for a generation to come. The last new avenue and ground when fully laid out, will furnish many fine lots.

A nice row of trees has been planted through the center. The Lowder Farm purchase, will prove a valuable one, for the sand and gravel there, being sufficient of the very best quality, to last for years to come. We have nearly 300 acres.

Mr. Thomas J. Cole, our superintendent, with his wife, devote much of their time towards beautifying the grounds and think we can say they are generally kept in good order. A fund sufficiently large has been deposited with our treasurer to keep the lots in order, and it will be our duty and pleasure to see that we are faithful to our trusts.

FUNDS.

The treasurer has two funds. One a deposit from owners of lots perpetual, so that their lots shall always be cared for by the corporation long after their owners shall have passed away. This fund now amounts to $9,440.50, a gain the past year of $1,180.07. The income only is expended. The invested and other funds received principally from sale of lots, now amount to $19,060.36, a gain from last year of $1,675.29.

The Home for Aged Women needs more room and the committee would advise that the treasurer be authorized to deed to them three lots next adjoining theirs.

On a few lots burials have been made by persons not able to pay for same, some cases of many years' standing. We think the treasurer should be authorized to give a deed in such cases as he thinks best.

It will be necessary to lot out a portion of the land purchased from Mr. Blake. It has been suggested by some of our board that the eastern portion of our lot above the bridge be improved and made into a park, to be called the Stetson park. Will the corporation take some action on the matter to-day?

Our former president, Hon. George Stetson, at our last annual meeting declined a re-election after 15 years of faithful service. He had lost none of his interest in the corporation.

Up to the day of his death, no member of the board had such constant and earnest desire to know that everything was being done to make it a desirable place to lay away the friends so dear to us all. For the past few years when the weather was suitable, he made almost daily visits to the grounds.

The last time I saw him, was on his death bed, two or three days before he passed away, sitting up in bed, with hardly strength to do it, drawing a plan, and advising work to be done in the future. We need have no fear but what our grounds will be well cared for, when we shall have gone, if we can be assured others like him shall be raised up to take his place.

THROUGH THE ICE.

Travelers and Horses Go Into the Water at Moosehead Lake.

It is getting to be dangerous traveling on the ice in Moosehead Lake and there have been some narrow escapes recently owing to the ice giving way. Sunday, as the stage which is run by Mr. A. H. Walker was coming down the lake there was a quick settling of the ice, and horses and stage went down into the water, the ice having broken in a big hole around them. There were eleven passengers in the stage and it was exciting for a time.

The passengers and driver got out upon firm ice and some time afterward they managed to rescue the horses and draw the stage out.

Yesterday, as a loaded team drawn by a span of horses was coming down the lake the ice broke and the horses went into the water. After considerable exertion they were helped out upon secure ice. The ice has begun to weaken considerably earlier this year than usual and it behooves those who travel there to take great care and to avoid that means of travel if possible.

Soon to be Ready for Use.

The [illegible] new hook and ladder truck purchased some months ago for the fire department will be ready for use in about two weeks. During the winter the ladders have been made for it by the Bangor Extension Ladder Company, and the other apparatus will be fitted at once. When it is ready for service there will be no finer truck in New England. [illegible] the horses will have some new harness and everything will be substantial as well as neat and effective. [illegible]

MAIL LETTING.

The Postmaster General has awarded contracts for the carrying of the United States Mail in Maine from July 1, 1892, to June 30, 1893, on the following named routes:

A WISE CHOICE.

Prof. Charles M. Jordan Elected Superintendent of Schools of Minneapolis.

The many friends in this city of Prof. Charles M. Jordan, formerly principal of the High School here, will be much pleased to learn that he has been elected superintendent of the public schools of Minneapolis, succeeding Dr. J. E. Bradley. At a meeting of the Board of Education he received six of the seven votes cast. His salary will be $4,000.

One of the directors in response to the question why the change was made, replied: "Prof. Jordan is one of the best men in the country for the position, so we made him superintendent.

Prof. Jordan was born in this city in 1852, and was educated at Westbrook Seminary and Tufts College, graduating at the head of his class.

Among 25 candidates he secured the principalship of the Bangor High School through merit, and gave excellent satisfaction here. His teaching was marked by high ability and thoroughness and he was very popular with his scholars. He went to Minneapolis in 1883 and took charge of the Northrop school. He started the first branch high school in that city. In 1884 he was transferred to the Adams school and there established the second high school, which had 260 scholars, and is connected with the largest school in the city. His promotion will be a source of gratification to many friends who know that he is eminently well qualified to fill the position.

Obituary.

Mr. George W. Burrell, for many years a resident of this city, passed peacefully but quite suddenly away Monday afternoon at his late residence, 179 Union street. Mr. Burrell has been confined to the house most of the time during the past winter, although occasionally being able to go to his store. The immediate cause of his death was heart disease, but during his late illness he has been a great sufferer from other causes.

He was born in Bucksport, April 12th, 1820, and was consequently within a few days of 72 years of age. In early life he followed the sea for an occupation, but during later years has kept a fruit and confectionery store on Hammond street, where he enjoyed the friendship and acquaintance of many of our citizens.

Mr. Burrell was an honest, upright citizen and will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

In 1843 Mr. Burrell married Miss Elizabeth A. Kent, of Bucksport, by whom he had three children, George R., since dead, Galen S., of this city, and Adella N., now of Boston.

Mr. Burrell married for his second wife Pamella B. Gray, of this city, who, with the son and daughter named, survives him and to whom much sympathy is extended in the bereavement.

The Fair Case.

The hearing in the equity case of F. O. Beal and Ezra L. Sterns vs. J. P. Bass and the Eastern Maine State Fair Association was continued before Judge Haskell yesterday. Mr. Bass was on the stand all day and when the court adjourned C. F. Woodard, Esq., counsel for Mr. Beal, had not concluded his cross-examination. The defendant contends that Messrs. Beal and Sterns forfeited their interest in the grounds by the non-payment of rent and that the property has by this reason been absorbed by the alleged corporation. The cross-examination of the witness up to this time has been to show that the corporation had no legal existence, never held an annual meeting or performed other requirements called for by the constitution. The questions of the counsel were sharp and to the point, so much so that it was sometimes difficult to confine the witness to the facts which it was desired to bring out. The case will be continued to-day. It is understood that Messrs. Beal and Sterns made a proposition to dispose of the case either by the purchase of Mr. Bass's interest or the sale of their own, but it was declined.

Fight at South Brewer.

City Marshal Fickett, of Brewer, was notified last evening of trouble at South Brewer, where it was said a sanguinary conflict was in progress. He was soon on his way there with several men and investigated the affair. There had been a French Canadian wedding at a house there, and after the happy event it appeared that some of the men in attendance went out and held a "mill" near by.

By the time the city marshal arrived the combatants had disappeared so no arrests were made. Later in the evening two men were arrested in a drunken condition and it is thought they were concerned in the fight.

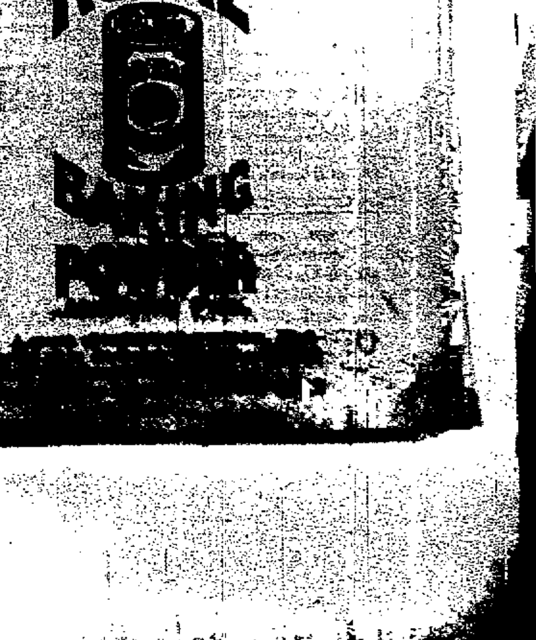

Chief of Police Parker, of this city, was telephoned to later in the evening to send some officers down there, but it was not within the jurisdiction of Bangor officers.

The stories of the affair were to the effect that one man was badly used up in the fight, having his nose and a finger severely bitten.

The principals will doubtless soon be caught.

Mr. Thornton Lyford has purchased of Mrs. Cyrus Brown, the store and tenement property at the corner of Park and Somerset streets, for $5,000, it is understood.

Master Newton K. Wilcox, who will sing at the Hammond street church this evening, will arrive this afternoon from Boston.

BREWER LOCALS.

Mr. Cyrus A. Washburn was in Old Town yesterday on a short trip.

The High School began its spring term yesterday with a good attendance.

Deacon George Snow is having improvements made in his house on Main street.

Miss May Lowell, of Bucksport, is expected in the city this week to make a short visit.

Mr. Percy Smith, who has been in Waldoboro, for some time, is at his old home in this city.

Mr. Fisher, the new superintendent of the electric railroad in this city, has entered upon his duties.

The Normal Bible class will meet this evening, with Mrs. Alpheus Robinson, at her home on Main street.

The youthful portion of our population is taking advantage of the fine weather by indulging in base ball to some extent.

Mr. Edward I. Baker, of Boston, who has been visiting here for a short time, left yesterday on his return to that city.

Considerable ice was moving down the river yesterday and at times it interfered somewhat with the progress of the ferry boat.

Rev. A. G. Pettengill, who is filling a three months engagement with the Congregational church in Monson, is visiting at his home in this city.

Miss Catherine Hardy left for Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday, to resume her kindergarten work there, after spending a vacation at her home in this city.

The City Government holds a meeting this evening, in the Aldermen's room in the City Hall building. After to-night the sessions of the council will occur monthly.

Notices of the spring arrangement for the steamer Cimbria, of the Bangor and Bar Harbor line, have been posted about the city. The boat leaves Bangor for its first trip of the season, to-morrow morning.

At the next meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the First Congregational church on the coming Sunday evening, the reports of the various officers and committees for the term which has just closed, will be called for.

The beautiful summer-like weather continued, yesterday, and was much appreciated by all. Such a number of pleasant days occurring consecutively as they have in the past short time, is a rarity for the season of the year.

The time is now near when the open tow cars may be put on the electric railroad and the pleasure riding season will soon commence. An open car will probably be used on any day when the amount of trade will justify it.

The mud is fast disappearing from the city streets and most of them are dry and dusty, but in the country a good proportion of the roads are in many places in a poor condition for travelling over, as the frost is coming out of the ground with the usual results.

The steamer Isma was launched yesterday from the beach at Warren's dock, where she has been during the winter, and it is hoped to get her ready for the ferry route in season for her to begin the service to-day. She is larger than the Bon Ton and can therefore carry more passengers on each trip.

A crew of men began, yesterday, to erect a staging around the tall chimney at the mill of E. H. & H. Rollins, for the purpose of making the repairs upon the structure which we referred to a short time since. It is rather a dangerous job but those who do such work have a steady head and are accustomed to laboring at dizzy heights.

Capt. S. H. Barbour has the plans and will soon lay the keel of another small steamer at his yard. It will be 42 feet in length, a little larger than the steam launch that he has already partly constructed, and will be built in a thorough manner, as all crafts are at this yard. She is to be built for Mr. Frank Lunt, of Tremont, and will be used by him in place of one which was lost.

The opening of the river was hailed with gladness by many of our people, because after it comes the starting of industries that during the winter are done-out. Soon the saw mills will be running, their wharves will present a busy scene, the vessel repairing yards will resume a look of activity, ice shipping will be in progress, and the summer's business in all lines, for which the outlook is favorable, will be well started. A prosperous season is being looked forward to.

All who are interested are cordially invited to attend the meeting in Harlow's hall this evening at 7.30 o'clock, which is to be held for the purpose of coming to a conclusion in regard to the matter of a reorganization or revival of Garfield Lodge I. C. of G. T. Those who have been engaged in pushing the work have found that there are many of our people who will wish to become members and give their active support, and feel that the outlook for a growing and prosperous lodge is encouraging.

The last entertainment in the Riverside Grange literary contest was given by Mr. Charles Grant's side Saturday evening, and proved to be an enjoyable one. After it was finished the number of points secured by each side were computed and the umpire announced that the ladies, under the leadership of Miss Blanche Burton, were victorious. It now devolves upon the other party, which is composed of the gentlemen, to furnish an oyster supper for their opponents, which they will do on next Saturday evening. The contest has been an interesting one and has been of much benefit to the participants.

THE "BACK ROUTE" MAIL. The mail service between South Brewer and Bucksport, by the "back route," is again being carried on by Mr. Carlon, who for reasons we have before referred to has not been attending to it for some time. Mr. Bolton, of South Brewer, who has been acting as carrier temporarily, went over the line for the last time on Friday, April 1st, and on the succeeding day the mail was taken by Mr. Lamuel Nichols, of Bangor, who acted as the agent of Stewart & Kelley, the Missouri men who are the contractors for this service. Yesterday, at the usual hour, Mr. Carlon made his appearance at the upper terminus of the route and taking the bags, started off as was his wont a little over a month ago, for Bucksport. The trouble over the matter seems to be about settled now, and all concerned are glad that such is the case.

SEEN ON THE STREET. Rather a comical spectacle was presented to the people on Centre street yesterday afternoon by a pair of small boys who had been making a collection of bottles, probably for the purpose of adding to their stock of money. Each had quite a number and they were distributed over their bodies promiscuously. One of the urchins in particular was heavily laden. He had bottles large and small, tall and short, round, oval and square, in fact almost every kind of fluid holders. From nearly every pocket the end of one protruded, they were stuffed inside of his coat and a number were held by his arms. The lads seemed quite happy in the possession of so many of these useful articles with which they were making themselves so [illegible] [illegible]

One of our local canoe enthusiasts ventured out on the river yesterday in one of the frail crafts and before long this pastime will again be a favorite with many.

A large stock of wood which was piled just across the street from the Catholic church in South Brewer, has been to a great extent, taken away for use as fuel at the pulp mill, and but a comparatively small amount of it is left.

Sons of the Revolution.

The Bangor Historical Society has received a copy, just issued in elegant style, of the constitution of the Sons of the Revolution and by-laws and register of the New York society. The New York society, like the Maine society, is a branch of the General Society. Beside the constitution of the General Society and the constitution and by-laws of the New York society, the book contains an interesting address upon the capture of Ticonderoga, with a spirited engraving representing Ethan Allen demanding the surrender of the fort, "In the name of Almighty God and the Continental Congress," the address delivered by Prof. Henry P. Johnston, presenting many new facts regarding the organization of the expedition or expeditions, as there were in reality two, one under Ethan Allen and one under Benedict Arnold, which united and under the joint command of the two made the assault upon the fort, which resulted in its bloodless capture.

The frontispiece is a fine mezzotint portrait of General Washington, and there is an etching representing the old Fraunces Tavern, in which the society was instituted, February 22d, 1876, and reorganized December 3, 1883.

It also contains lists of the officers of the Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Georgia and District of Columbia societies.

Among the 902 members of the New York society, we notice the name of Lieut. Charles Lee Coffin, U. S. A., whose ancestral record entitling him to membership is as follows:

Great grandson of private Mathew Coffin, private on vessel "Melisha," Capt. Abner Hall (to Machias) August 14, 1877; private in Capt. John Hall's company, Lincoln County Militia, Colonel Foster, September 1, 1777; great grandson of Lieutenant Nathan Coffin, Sergeant in Captain Tobias Fernald's Company, Colonel John Scammel's Regiment Massachusetts Continental Infantry, May 3, 1775; 1st Lieutenant in York County Militia, January 1, 1776; 1st Lieutenant in Massachusetts Coast Guard Service, 1777.

An Ancient Philadelphia Bird.

Poor old Crocky Baldwin, the antiquated cockatoo at the Zoological gardens, whose age is variously estimated, but who is known to be well on to 100 years old, is pining away. Crocky's days are numbered, and the mournful old bird seems to realize it. Since his precarious condition was published some time ago letters have been received at the Zoo from all parts of the country expressing solicitude for the condition of the aged bird. In many of these epistles offers of various sums have been made for Crocky's remains after death has done its work. These offers range from five dollars all the way up to fifty dollars, the latter offer having been received from a Boston taxidermist.—Philadelphia Record.

Payment for a Serviceable Suit.

John Blazer, a tailor of Terrell, Tex., has received a check for twenty-five dollars from C. C. Hemming, president of the National Bank of Gainesville, Tex., in payment for a uniform which the former made for the latter thirty years ago when both were inmates of the famous Rock Island prison. The uniform was made from two Federal overcoats, and in that garb Hemming evaded the vigilance of the guards and effected his escape. Hemming learned of his benefactor's whereabouts only a few days ago, and instantly sent him the check for the above amount out of gratitude to Blazer for enabling him to escape.—Cor. St. Louis Republic.

A Big Excursion.

The annual trip of the work people employed by the Great Western Railway company at Swindon last year had to be divided into no less than seventeen trains, requiring 341 carriages and thirty-nine guards. The number of passengers was 17,850, being 1,200 more than at the previous year's trip, and included half of the inhabitants of the town.—London Tit-Bits.

When Sedan Chairs Were Introduced.

Sedan chairs were first used in England by the Duke of Buckingham during the reign of James I. The first chair aroused much indignation among the people, who said that men were being used to do the work of beasts, but later on they became very fashionable.—Harper's Young People.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

It strikes us as remarkable to hear of the wonderful record for curing, enjoyed by Betton's Infallible Pile Salve; it cures every form of this troublesome ailment. If not to be had of your druggist send 50 cents to the Winkelmann & Brown Drug Co., Baltimore, Md.

Suppose that every man, woman and child in the United States should suddenly be troubled with constipation, what would be the result? Cactus Blood Cure could not be prepared fast enough; the market would be bulled, and New York druggists would temporarily stop cutting prices.

Now is the time to take a good tonic medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the greatest merit, and is a popular favorite. 10

MAINE MELANGE.

Record of Some of the Recent Happenings.

Matters of Interest to the Whig Readers.

Aroostook.

Mr. Eliphalet Elliott, residing in what is known as the Buzzell neighborhood, in Presque Isle, died very suddenly about noon, Tuesday. While in the act of carrying a pail of water from the well to his house, Mr. Elliot fell and expired almost at once. His death is attributed to an attack of apoplexy. Deceased was about fifty-two years of age.

We understand that Hon. T. H. Phair, of Presque Isle, has sold Almont Clay to Mr. I. H. Page, of Fort Kent, says the Star-Herald. Almont is a very game and speedy race horse, as he is entitled to be by his pedigree which is one that ought to insure speed. He is by Olympus, by Almont, Dam Hattie Clay, by Cassius M. Clay, Jr. Almont has trotted in races the past season in 2.29¾ and has a record of 2.33½. We understand that Mr. Page has bought him for his private use and will not put him into races.

The Presque Star-Herald says: We are authorized by Col. C. P. Allen to state that he will not be a candidate for re-nomination as a representative from this district. Both on the score of party usage and a satisfactory record of legislative service the Colonel has a valid title to a re-nomination, and his claim would, without doubt, be readily conceded by his constituents. His determination to retire will not therefore be construed as due to any circumstances adverse to his re-nomination.

The post-office at Maple Grove, Aroostook County, is to be discontinued April 15th.

For the past week large quantities of potatoes have been going to F. C. Robinson's starch factory in Blaine, to be manufactured into starch. It seemed a very fortunate thing that Mr. Robinson opened his factory and thus gave the farmers of this and adjoining towns a chance to dispose of their surplus potatoes.

A postoffice has been established at West Cornville, Somerset county, and Joel W. Hobart appointed postmaster.

There's sometimes danger in even so apparently harmless an amusement as collecting postage stamps. The family of John Brack, of East Madison, have been sorely afflicted with scarlet fever recently, Mr. Brack and a daughter seven years old having died, and two more children having been sick, the disease having been contracted, it is thought, from stamps which the children had been collecting.

Washington.

One of the finest sights we have seen this spring was the fleet of vessels that passed through the bay Saturday morning; there were twenty-six passing inside of thirty minutes, all going West, writes the Roque Bluff correspondent of the Republican. We counted ten in the eastern opening between Cow Point and the Brother Islands, and a little farther West, between two other islands, twelve were counted.

Melville Bryant, of Roque Bluffs, shot a seal one day last week, that measured eight feet and eight inches in length and weighed five hundred pounds.

The annual town meeting of Jonesboro was held last week. The officers chosen were about the same as last year: John Lord, moderator; Ansel Tupper, clerk; Ansel Tupper, Eugene Drisko, D. H. Farnsworth, selectmen; Langdon Marston, collector, at two cents and nine mills; H. L. Marston, treasurer.

"[illegible] WEEKS."

Sad Reminders of the Late Epidemic.

Serious After-Effects of the Disease Common.

What the Best Physicians Use and Recommend.

How Thousands Have Restored Shattered Health.

Nature's Own Remedy Discovered by Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth.

WASHINGTON, April 4. In an official conference concerning startling fatality in the departments and elsewhere, a prominent army surgeon to-day said:

"The Annals of Hygiene seems to have solved the cause, for in a recent number its editor states:

"'How many cases of incurable organic disease have had their origin in the grip, of course it is impossible to ascertain statistically, but that many persons are invalided or dead whose departure from health dates from an attack of the grippe, the experience of our readers will, we are sure, bear ample proof.

The surgeon also read this extract from a communication by Dr. Brockett, published in the Medical World:

"'Autopsies held on subjects known to have had la grippe and supposed to have fully recovered, who died suddenly, show structural changes in the medulla and spinal cord.

"'Our state and private insane asylums are rapidly filling up from this source. The country is strewed with mental 'grip wrecks,' which will remain with us as a sad reminder after the disease has taken its final departure.'"

Continuing, the surgeon said: "Much experimenting has been done to remedy this peculiar condition of the system, and carefully prepared statistics from reports made by physicians in different parts of the country show that the discovery of Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth college, known as Paine's celery compound, is the most successful in treating these shattered wrecks.

"Dr. W. E. Anthony, of Providence, reports: 'The patients where I used Paine's celery compound expressed themselves much pleased with the general tonic effect experienced from its use. As a tonic and restorative it seems to meet the indications in cases of debility, which as a rule are the sequel of la grippe.'

"C.E. Wells, M.D., of Sag Harbor, N. Y., reports that he used Paine's celery compound in cases of nervous prostration following la grippe with most satisfactory results.

"The famous Boston surgeon, Dr. A.W. K. Newton, states very emphatically that this compound is the most reliable tonic and strength-giver he has found for this peculiar and dangerous condition of the system."

In conclusion, the surgeon said: "Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine. It is a scientific discovery whose formula is known to most physicians. It must not be confounded with the ordinary nervines, bitters and sarsaparillas, for it is as much superior to them in formula and results as the diamond is superior to cheap glass. It purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, and is nature's food for the brain—such a medicine is an absolute necessity in cases of grip-wreck."

A physician, whose practice is next to the largest in Washington, said:

"I find this tale a very common one among my patients: 'Oh, doctor, the grip left me in a terrible state. I have a continual buzzing in my ears and they seem to be stopped up; my head aches nearly all the time; if I take a little cold my throat and chest are choked up; at times it seems as though my heart would jump into my throat; I can't sleep; I am so nervous that I tremble nearly all the time; I feel tired and have no ambition to work.'"

The physician further said: "I tell such people to buy half a dozen bottles of Paine's celery compound, which seems to be nature's remedy for this serious trouble. I know of nothing else that will help them, and that amount is generally enough to drive from the system the poison germs left by la grippe."

The Cotton Picker.

A statement of fact which bore the indorsement of a committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the presidents or cashiers of five of Boston's biggest banks, and of two hundred and fifty of Boston's leading citizens would be accepted the world over without question. It is by evidence of precisely this nature that the New England investors in the stock of the Cotton Picker Company have become convinced that their money is not only safe, but bound to yield very large returns.

True, the Company's factory is located in Waco, Tex., and not in Boston, and the cotton picked by the Company's machines during the past season was picked near Waco, and not from cotton growing on Boston Common, and for this reason the evidence comes from Waco and not from Boston, but this makes it not one whit less trustworthy. Waco is the fourth city of Texas in population and wealth, and stands well to the front in the enterprise and probity of its business men. A statement regarding facts coming under the personal observation of a committee of the Board of Trade, the officials of every one of its banks, and two hundred and fifty of its leading citizens, and certified to over the signatures of all of these, must carry with it unquestioned conviction.

When the Cotton Picker Company puts forth the claim that its machine can pick cotton at a saving of eighty-five per cent of its cost, and that it can pick a cleaner sample than the hand-picked, it supports its claim by precisely this evidence from men who say that it did do just this in their presence.

Investors have only to satisfy themselves that these are facts, to see at once that the stock of the Cotton Picker Company must very soon rise to a value almost without a precedent in recent years.

It will save for the cotton-raisers of the South in hard cash every year nearly ninety millions of dollars. The yearly profits of the Company need be less than this immense sum only by so much as the cotton-grower shall be permitted to share in its benefits. But only a small portion of it earned upon a capitalization of five millions must give to the stock, as soon as the machines can be supplied in sufficient quantities, a value calculated to give affluence to the smallest shareholder.
